

The ClimateWise Fifth Anniversary Summit

Examining insurer leadership for the long-term

15.30 - 19.30 (SAST), 22 November 2012

Online Conference at the London Stock Exchange

"The need for climate-resilience is becoming a source of innovation and business opportunity for insurers. Combined with our traditional skills in risk-modelling and scenario building it can assist policy-makers and customers alike identify cost effective measures in their communities and plan better for future uncertainties."

John Coomber Board Member, Swiss Re & ClimateWise Chairman

Dear Colleague,

ClimateWise would like to invite you to mark the 5th Anniversary of the ClimateWise initiative. This will be a milestone event to review achievements, share outcomes from initiatives and look ahead to address corporates' needs in a changing climate.
